'Merchant of Venice' Earns Audience Praise

BY DOROTHEA JONES
Pasco High School
English Instructor

Shakespeare came alive again as members of the AAUW presented a weekend, Dec. 11th and 12th, when they witnessed the performance of Shakespeare's Merchant of Venice by the CBC players, under the able direction of Mr. Dan Sartori.

The theater-in-the-round performance was capably staged with sets designed and executed by student artists; presented most effectively the Venetian scenes, with a minimum of properties and no changing.

From the intermission, a continuous performance in the tradition of the Shakespearean theater. The costumes, made by students, were authentically Elizabethan, and reflected the color and gaiety of that era.

DALE LONG as Shylock deserved the plaudits of the audience in a practically flawless performance, outstanding by any standards, professional in depth and characterization. It seemed impossible that he could arouse ambivalent emotions—pity and hatred—but so skillful was he that he did that very thing.

Miss Janice Schauss as Portia, presented a somewhat different version of that charming "career" woman than is ordinarily seen. Vivacious, sprightly, and somewhat flighty, she lacked the depth usually associated with the lady lawyer, yet gave a convincing performance. This, we understand, was done in spite of serious illness at home.

David Dalthorp effectively portrayed Antonio, the merchant friend of Bassanio, ready and willing to make any sacrifice friendship required.

The principals were ably supported by the rest of the cast. It was indeed a creditable performance on the part of the entire cast, a performance that the student body can look forward to this weekend.

'Merchant' Plays Dec. 18-20

The last three performances of "The Merchant of Venice" will be presented December 18, 19, and 20. The play opened on December 11 and played a second performance in the CBC lounge.

Both performances played to large audiences which applauded the Shakespearean comedy.

Tickets for the last three performances are available in the lounge, and students may get them free of charge by showing their ASB cards. Students are urged to pick up tickets as soon as possible, because demand may be high.

Costumes for "The Merchant" were designed and made by Rosie Montgomery, Dianne Olney, Trisha Halvorson, Janice Schauss, and Elaine Kenney. Costumes, in the Elizabethan style of the traditional staging of the play, are of silk and satins.

Sets for the comedy were designed by Arthur Koch and built by students.

Vox Populi, Vox Dei . . .

Dear Editor:

I went to the ASB council meeting Wednesday morning to introduce the possibility of bi-annual elections. During the course of the meeting, while waiting for the section of new business to come up on the agenda, I observed the lack of regard for the constitution some members of the council hold.

There is a requirement that each member of the council maintain a 2.0 grade point average to retain his position on the council. This is part of the constitution, passed by the student body as a whole. Today, Ron Spelley informed me that he and Mr. Hansen had decided to rule that a GPA is for one quarter. That would seem rather to be a GPTQ—grade point this quarter.

Cecile Ruiz then rose and stated that I was only trying to press my "vested interests". My purpose is to see that the letter of the law is upheld. It appears to me that some council members are anxious to ignore the law to protect one person, or perhaps persons?

I wonder how many "vested interests" there really are?

GRADE POINT average, by definition, is the average reached by dividing total credit hours attempted, according to the Registrar's office. My grade point dropped to a 3.27 from a 3.38 this quarter. Now I much prefer the 3.38, but does that mean that 3.38 is my GPA? No! 3.27 is the grade point average.

I wonder how any one can justify the actions of some. There is a vote coming up Monday to settle this. I urge all students to come to ASB Monday at 10 a.m. in room C-115 and see if the council still has the audacity to ignore your rights. If they do, then, with your support we can surely correct this poor representation.

Sincerely concerned,
LARRY E. KRUEGER

P. S. My "vested interest" is constitutional government. Ruiz told all clubs what they would do for Christmas. Mr. Hansen informed us that "this is the way to get things done."

Dr. Rippey gave me a definition of GPA. He agrees precisely with that which the registrar gave me as a definition. This is unfair in a way, since he was not informed of the situation around this question of definition, but still it was fair since he was detached from the controversy this way, and just gave me a definition as such.

Dear Editor:

This is an open letter to the students of the CBCASB.

Dear Student:

As a member of the student council and a representative of you students, we feel it is our duty to inform you of the attitude taken by other members of the council toward your constitution.

At the meeting of Wednesday, the 16, it was brought to the attention of the council that under Article 3, Section C, all voting members of the council "must maintain a 2.0 grade point average . . . or he will be automatically dropped from the student council." It was moved that a standing committee consisting of the President, the secretary, and the treasurer of the ASB be set up to check the grades of all council members at the end of each quarter.

THIS MOTION met strong opposition in council. Is it possible that some of these members who are opposing so strongly are doing so for fear of their own academic position? Most other colleges in the Northwest require a 2.5 or higher grade point to be a member of the student council. We feel that our requirement of 2.0 is very reasonable, and to go any lower would endanger the effectiveness of your student government. Further, it is our belief that the constitution should make no allowances for special individuals.

We feel that if one person must maintain a 2.0 grade average, all should be required to do so.

The committee we advocate would have the power to examine and take appropriate action on the transcripts of all individuals in the council. This is now possible.

We would appreciate your support in this matter at Monday's meeting.

Sincerely,

Your representatives,
John Kinsey, Wally Peterson, Dean Heiling,
Stan Hovde.

The student clubs and organizations that decorated the halls for Christmas last weekend deserve more public praise than I'm sure they'll get.

It was a pleasant surprise for me to find holiday decorations gracing the austere walls of the I-Building when, of a 7 o'clock last Monday morning, I bleared my way toward my office in the Language Arts Division.

The warmth of the decorations seemed to ease the chill I was trying to shake from my bones then; and since then I have felt a continuing gratitude for the wreaths and other hangings that color the campus.

School Spirit of Christmas

Despite the recent controversy over school spirit students, The Collegiate noted an organized display of spirit on campus this week.

The matter of school spirit arose, because students yell at football and basketball games; and only a few participated in such activities as attending pep rallies and in campus elections.

Participating in these activities is a show of school spirit. There are other aspects. Students show school spirit when they respect school property; when they participate in school activities, and when they conduct themselves according to school rules.

STUDENTS WHO work to their full capacities academically reflect favorably upon the school and the faculty, thus demonstrating a form of school spirit. School spirit entails a concern for the school and its activities.

This week, CBC students displayed this brand of school spirit through their clubs. CBC campus organizations have used their time, artistic ability and money to "deck the halls" for the Christmas season.

School spirit may be absent from sports activities, but students, faculty members and visitors will surely feel it now. When they walk through the front doors, a beautiful flocked tree with twinkling red points of light will greet them. The Santa Claus perched on the walls of the administrative offices cheers those whose minds are heavy with business.

FROSTED SCENES of Christmas remind students as they walk through the doors, that Christmas vacation is near. Faculty members who pause in the Teachers' Lounge return to the classroom with lighter hearts, inspired by the decorations that school-minded students have placed there for them.

In short, the students who decorated the CBC campus have performed a service; and, in doing so, have shown their spirit.

The Collegiate extends its gratitude to these students for a happy holiday season to its readers.

Council Holds Election For Representative

By Ken Williams
ASB Reporter

The Student Council elected Larry Groshoff as sophomore representative. The post was vacated by the removal of Don Detrick.

The four candidates for the office, Dick Nordness, Rick Givan, Gilbert Swick and Groshoff were allowed to give 1½ minute speeches explaining their qualifications.

The first to speak was Nordness who said, "There is more need for representation from the Technical Vocational Divisions."

He said that he would try to encourage good relations between the Student Council and the Technical Vocational division.

Givan spoke in defense of the parking lot committee of which he is a member. "I think the rules are vague," he said. Referring to rumors that the debate team is pushing programs for its own special interests, he said, "I think the coalition is an illusion. We aren't pushing anything from now on."

Groshoff was the third speaker. He said, "First, I want to represent the ideas and opinions of the sophomore class."

Swick, the fourth speaker, said, "I will try to see that there is more interest in school activities." He also proposed that "all fields should be represented."

The council ran into a problem on voting when it was discovered that the constitution does not specify the manner in which the representative should be elected.

Stan Hovde moved that the selection should be made by a majority vote. The motion passed. The council elected Groshoff on the second vote.

SAC Selects Committee to Present Awards

Student Activity Council elected Larry Krueger and Barbara Strunk to be members of the Award Committee. Also Peterson, Inter-Collegiate Commissioner, told the council that two members were to be elected for the award selection group from the SAC.

Krueger and Miss Strunk were selected to work with Sigvard Hansen, Dr. Rippey, Venetta Stappler, Cecile Ruiz, and Dean Heiling.

Their duties will include selecting an award winner from a list submitted by the classes and the organizations of campus.

The requirements for the award are selection from the lists submitted by the organizations, a two point grade average and a majority vote in the Student Council from the five names that the committee submits as their choices for the award.

The award will be presented once a month.

are only one week away from the Birth and two weeks from the birth of a New Year. This is the time for wiping away of the old and mistakes of the past preparing for the new and counting blessings instead of counting collisions. It is on this note that I make some constructive criticism of CBC's "establishment" in past years the student body spent the first year making mistakes and learning out that the school is not an easy thing to run. They found they are subject to most subjective criticisms when they fail. They have found that praise does not automatically come with the success of their office. They have found that they have to keep within they must keep. It is good that they have this opportunity to make poor decisions and to experiment with ideas. It is good that they are criticized, and it is good that they do not receive undo NEVER, I do feel that backslapping is in order after some initial difficulties. The Student Council has an effective parking plan and a clear, unified set of rules.

The creation of a budget committee to review all requests for money is a sound idea. With the potential of its powers the committee can be very successful.

A few reservations, I feel the Student Activities Council is beginning to function as a co-ordination device it was designed to be. This council is done rather well in the above mentioned areas into action during the winter quarter.

Rye Grass in Campus

Rye grass is growing between the science and I buildings to hold the newly graded ground. Dr. Mond French, science instructor, said that rye was chosen because it grows rapidly and also has a good root system. It will be plowed under in the spring. Lawn grass will be planted.

Dr. Rippey recently attended a ceremony at which a tree was donated. Miss Zona Clark, a club member and CBC member, donated the tree.

Parking Rules Effective January 17

Newly standardized CBC parking regulations will be strictly enforced beginning on Thursday, Dec. 17, said John Kinsey, ASB treasurer.

The ASB will hire a student to patrol the parking areas. Violators will be fined. Warnings were issued Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, informing students of the new parking rules. Ignorance will no longer be considered an excuse.

The rules are:

1. Each student and faculty member must obtain and display a parking decal on the window of his car. These are available at the cashier's desk.
2. Parking is angle parking only, and yellow stripes on the logs and bricks are guides to be used when parking.
3. Follow one way streets—designated by signs and arrows.
4. Drive forward into parking spaces at all times. Do not back in.

5. Areas designated "Visitors Parking", in front of the "C" Building, are not to be used by staff or students.

6. Students are not to park in area reserved for faculty.

THE PENALTIES FOR NON-CONFORMANCE WILL BE:

1. Cars without proper decals will be ticketed and fined $1.
2. Cars will be ticketed and a fine of $1 will be assessed if they are improperly parked.
3. If the $1 fines are not paid within a week's time (seven days) they will become $5 fines. This will then become a matter of record in the registrar's office and will be treated as any other fees due the college.
4. If you do receive a ticket and you feel it unjustified please bring it to traffic court, Winter quarter registration is expected to be about 1400 according to Noble Moodhe, registrar.

1558 students were enrolled for fall quarter. The winter quarter estimate of 1400 is based on a normal ten per cent drop from the fall quarter.

George Askegaard, director of the extended day program, reports that 900 are enrolled in night school. Of the 900, about 350 are academic students, and 50 are in the vocational-technical program or in terminal classes.

AAUP Holds Annual Reception Sunday

More than 50 faculty and administration guests last Sunday attended the annual reception sponsored by the Columbia Basin Chapter of the American Association of University Professors.

The reception was at the riverside home of Mr. and Mrs. James Devine, located above the Columbia River north of Pasco. Devine teaches language at CBC.

Honored guests included Dr. and Mrs. Edward Beaty.

The annual reception aims at acquainting faculty and administration with the AAUP and its members.

Gerry White, director of the nursing program, and Mrs. Ethel Ramsay, of the Language Arts Department, were in charge of arrangements.

Council Discusses GPA Checks On Members

At Wednesday's ASB council meeting, the group denied a motion for a previous question pertaining to debate on a proposed committee to be appointed to review council members' academic position.

The committee will enforce Article 3, section C of the ASB constitution. The article reads: "Section C, Student Council Membership: In order to be eligible for membership in the council, a student of the Association must maintain a 2.0 grade average. In the event a council member's G.P.A. falls below a 2.0 he will be automatically dropped from the council."

John Kinsey moved that a standing committee be formed to review the status of the Council members.

A debate followed. At one point in Kinsey's speech explaining the reason for such a committee, one ASB member called for adjournment of the meeting. Due to parliamentary rules, the motion was denied.

ASB member Wally Peterson called for the previous question and Dean Heiling seconded the motion. On the vote, the motion was denied 5-4.

The meeting was adjourned before debate could continue.

In a conversation after the meeting, Sigvard Hansen, Dean of Men, said that the practice was to have the grade point average at CBC be the indicator as to the eligibility of council members.

Bible As Literature Taught

Bible literature is perhaps the least known class at Columbia Basin College. Mrs. Mary Chisholm is instructor of the class.

This is the third year Bible literature has been taught at CBC. The two sections of the course are 195, literature of the Old Testament; and 196, literature of the New Testament. Books of the apocrypha are also read as a link between the two statements. The apocrypha contains sources that are not found elsewhere.

Since CBC is a state supported school, the class is taught on a literary, rather than religious basis.

Mrs. Chisholm quoted Mary Allen Chase as saying: "The Bible is, indeed, so imbedded in our American heritage that not to recognize its place there becomes a kind of national apostasy, and not to know and understand it, an act unworthy of us as a people."

Mrs. Chisholm said there are fourteen students in one section and eleven in the other. She said, "I am pleased with the interest and enthusiasm in the students of literature in the Bible."

Ski Club Plans Outings

The Ski club will travel to White Pass, Spout Springs and other ski areas this year.

The fee for membership in the club is $2.00 per year. This will be used to pay for transportation to and from the various ski lodges.

Everyone is invited to the meetings held at 10:00 Thursday mornings in room C-119.

Driving Regulations To Go Up

The Traffic Court and Problems Committee held their meetings last Friday. A resolution was used to plan for students who drive to school.

The court was originally set up in the fall, but the committee was appointed. President, Ron Speltz, called an ASB meeting of December 10. John Kinsey is chairman of the court. Other members are Sandy Green, Mark Johnson, John Stockamp and Dean Heiling.

A sign listing the six violations will be placed in the lots. Anyone violating the rules will be issued a ticket and brought before the court. If the violator fails to appear or pay the $1 fine, the ticket goes to Mr. Moodie as a fine, and is placed on the student's record as a bill. The committee asks questions, makes a decision, which is approved by three members.

Last quarter's violations referred to Mr. Hansen will collect the fines.

The court meets every day morning at 10 in room 114. Students may attend.

Hateful To Local Bastille

Hateful Hawk has announced that he will not be able to make an appearance at Christmas due to circumstances. He's in the local bastille for picking up a policeman's nightstick.

He would like to have the opportunity to wish all who sing Christmas carols key and the people sticks in their stockings. Merry Christmas.

There will be no Hateful Hawk Songfest Friday, December 25, due to the reasons mentioned above.

BC Hawks Boot Boise Broncos 75-74

ND IN: The Hawks score another basket in the game with Boise J.C.

Last weekend in Boise, the CBC Hawks increased their winning record to 32 games.

The Hawks cut it about as short as they could Friday night as they squeezed out the hosting Broncos 75-74 in a thrill-packed overtime game.

Saturday night's game ended in a 84-58 tally as CBC wrapped up the four game series with four straight victories.

FRIDAY'S GAME began the same way it ended—close. The first half finished with only two points separating the two teams. It ended 35-33 with the Hawks on top. The score was tied six times during the second half of play and playing time ran out in a 64-64 bind.

The Hawks appeared to be in trouble when their high point man, Byron Beck, fouled with only 2 minutes and 19 seconds left in the overtime session.

The Broncos were leading 74-72. Wendell Jones replaced Beck and came through with the winning points when he hit on a free throw and sank a short jumper to decide the final 75-74 score.

Randy Ackley, Bronco sharp-shooter and high point man, had the last chance to revise the score in the two seconds remaining, but missed on a hurried long shot.

SATURDAY night's game was something else, however. The CBC squad simply rolled over its opposition.

The Hawks shot 61 per cent from the field in the first half —Boise had 33 per cent. CBC shot 37 per cent in the second half for an average of 49 per cent.

Boise managed a 12 per cent effort in the second half and ended with 22 per cent. Despite a three inch per man height disadvantage, Beck gathered 18 rebounds to make a total of 47 for CBC compared to the Bronco's 30.

Ackley outscored everybody else with 25 points Friday night and 24 points Saturday. Boise had only one other player who scored in double figures compare to the Hawks four on Friday and five on Saturday.

Next weekend, the Yakima Indians will exchange hosting honors with the Hawks, as CBC engages in its first conference game Friday at Yakima and Saturday at home.

ASB Gives Tech-Voc More Cash

The Associated Student Body Council accepted the budget committee's recommendation that the Technical Vocational Clubs should receive $207 more than they were allocated at the beginning of the year, at Wednesday's council meeting.

ohn Kinsey, chairman of the budget committee, explained the amount by using the requirements of one club as an example of the procedure used in forming the new budget.

The meeting was then turned over to Wally Peterson, chairman of the award committee to select the two representatives on that committee from the ASB council. Elected were Cecile Ruiz and Dean Heiling. The award committee will select five names to be presented to the council as candidates for student of the month.

The intramural program will continue throughout the winter quarter with a basketball league for men and women, Nate Hair, athletic commissioner reported. He also said that students could still sign up for the program. Games for the men will be held on Monday and Wednesday nights, and the women's games are scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

Stan Hovde said the school maps were still in the planning stage. The maps are school maps of a larger size than the ones presently available.

Xmas In Iran:

Everybody Celebrates Except Tom Turkey

By Abbas Gheyssarieh
CBC Foreign Exchange Student

Christmas is celebrated by almost every country in the world. Each country has its own tradition to celebrate Christmas, and this tradition is almost the same in any part of the world.

In Iran, all Christians and even some people of other religions welcome the Christmas about a month before Christmas time. Shops and stores have special decorations for Christmas. You can see Christmas trees and Santas all over the place.

Most Christians celebrate Christmas in their homes under a Christmas tree; almost the same way people do here, with the exception of eating turkey. People of other religions either have their own parties, or go to the night clubs and dance. All night clubs have special programs for Christmas, and the owners of the night clubs have been waiting a long time for Christmas. That is the time they can make good money.

Those who cannot afford to go to the expensive night clubs may attend movies or watch television, because they are on all night during Christmas.

No matter where you go, you can always find something to do at Christmas time.

Students to Compete In Food Drive

The Christmas For the Needy Committee has asked students to donate food, clothing and toys for a family of nine. The drive will begin Monday. The gifts may be taken to the student lounge or to Mrs. Stapler's office.

The sophomore and freshman classes are competing on a point basis. Because the sophomore class is smaller it will receive more points for each item.

Wally Peterson and Dean Heiling are in charge of the sophomore class and Larry Williamson is in charge of the freshman class.

Lest We Forget Christ...

By Mike Roberts, Collegiate Staff Writer

Christmas is the annual feast commemorating the birth of Jesus Christ. How many people realize that this is the true meaning of Christmas?

Around this time of year the people become so involved in buying gifts, decorating a tree, and addressing cards that they don't look behind the tinsel curtain and see the real Christ.

It has been said that Christmas is a time to: "See the world through the eyes of a child, hear every joyous sound, speak with love, taste the essence of myrrh, touch the hearts of others, open the pine-scented halls, give with both hands open, receive with eyes aglow, build on old traditions, fill the minutes with love, live each day the golden rule, hum sweetly: 'Silent Night, Holy Night, Peace on earth, goodwill toward men'."

Christmas Day should be a time of religious worship and family reunion. Christmas is a feeling, not just a calendar date.

Foreign Student Tells Bolivian Xmas Customs

BY MILYAM PEREDO

CBC Foreign Exchange Student Milyam Peredo says Christmas in Bolivia is celebrated Dec. 25 the same as here, but we never think of a white Christmas, because ours is in the summer.

Only stores decorate their windows, houses never do. We put the Xmas tree up the 24th, in the afternoon. That evening we start playing Indian Christmas songs and start the adoration to Baby Jesus.

Everybody goes to bed early and gets up about twelve or one in the morning to open the presents. The gift exchange is only among the parents and children of the family.

PEOPLE WHO live near a church go to midnight mass, which is long and beautiful.

Children over here believe that Santa Claus brings the presents. We believe that Baby Jesus brings them.

The mistletoe is unknown. I got a big surprise when I stood under one of them here. I think I'll take some back home.

The city has grown a big Xmas tree in the middle of town in the Principal Square. They put lights all over. On the 25th in the morning poor children go there and get some presents. They are put there by the government.

WE LEAVE the decorations until February the 6th when we celebrate the Three Kings, then we take all the decorations down. Some children get presents again on this day.

The first of January, at 12 o'clock, all the church bells start ringing. We usually stay up waiting for the new year.

Christmas, New Year, and birthdays are the three important dates of the year in the lives of the Bolivian people.

This is my third Christmas in the U. S. I have so many of your customs. I almost forgot some of

The students are Mbele Mbang of The Gambia, Nigeria will arrive on campus December 23.

Mbele Mbang will spend the Christmas at the CBC campus. He will stay with Fisher and his family until December 27, when he will go to Bellingham, Washington for New Years. The other students plan to return to Oregon State University January 3.

CBC Hawks Boot Boise Broncos 75-74

END IN: The Hawks score another basket in the game with Boise J.C.

Last weekend in Boise, the CBC Hawks increased their winning record to 32 games.

The Hawks cut it about as short as they could Friday night as they squeezed out the hosting Broncos 75-74 in a thrill-packed overtime game.

Saturday night's game ended in a 84-58 tally as CBC wrapped up the four game series with four straight victories.

FRIDAY'S GAME began the same way it ended—close. The first half finished with only two points separating the two teams. It ended 35-33 with the Hawks on top. The score was tied six times during the second half of play and playing time ran out in a 64-64 bind.

The Hawks appeared to be in trouble when their high point man, Byron Beck, fouled with only 2 minutes and 19 seconds left in the overtime session.

The Broncos were leading 74-72. Wendell Jones replaced Beck and came through with the winning points when he hit on a free throw and sank a short jumper to decide the final 75-74 score.

Randy Ackley, Bronco sharp-shooter and high point man, had the last chance to revise the score in the two seconds remaining, but missed on a hurried long shot.

SATURDAY night's game was something else, however. The CBC squad simply rolled over its opposition.

The Hawks shot 61 per cent from the field in the first half—Boise had 33 per cent. CBC shot 37 per cent in the second half for an average of 49 per cent.

Boise managed a 12 per cent effort in the second half and ended with 22 per cent. Despite a three inch per man height disadvantage, Beck gathered 18 rebounds to make a total of 47 for CBC compared to the Bronco's 30.

Ackley outscored everybody else with 25 points Friday night and 24 points Saturday. Boise had only one other player who scored in double figures compare to the Hawks four on Friday and five on Saturday.

Next weekend, the Yakima Indians will exchange hosting honors with the Hawks, as CBC engages in its first conference game Friday at Yakima and Saturday at home.

ASB Gives Tech-Voc More Cash

The Associated Student Body Council accepted the budget committee's recommendation that the Technical Vocational Clubs should receive $207 more than they were allocated at the beginning of the year, at Wednesday's council meeting.

ohn Kinsey, chairman of the budget committee, explained the amount by using the requirements of one club as an example of the procedure used in forming the new budget.

The meeting was then turned over to Wally Peterson, chairman of the award committee to select the two representatives on that committee from the ASB council. Elected were Cecile Ruiz and Dean Heiling. The award committee will select five names to be presented to the council as candidates for student of the month.

The intramural program will continue throughout the winter quarter with a basketball league for men and women, Nate Hair, athletic commissioner reported. He also said that students could still sign up for the program. Games for the men will be held on Monday and Wednesday nights, and the women's games are scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

Stan Hovde said the school maps were still in the planning stage. The maps are school maps of a larger size than the ones presently available.

Lest We Forget Christ ...

By Mike Roberts, Collegiate Staff Writer

Christmas is the annual feast commemorating the birth of Jesus Christ. How many people realize that this is the true meaning of Christmas?

Around this time of year the people become so involved in buying gifts, decorating a tree, and addressing cards that they don't look behind the tinsel curtain and see the real Christ.

It has been said that Christmas is a time to: "See with the eyes of a child, hear every joyous sound, speak with love, taste the essence of myrrh, touch the hearts of others, fill the pine-scented halls, give with both hands open, receive with eyes aglow, build on old traditions, fill the minutes with love, live each day the golden rule, hum sweetly: 'Silent Night' and sing lustily: 'Peace on earth, goodwill toward men'."

Christmas Day should be a time of religious worship, family reunion. Christmas is a feeling, not just a calendar date.

Foreign Student Tells Bolivian Xmas Customs

BY MILYAM PEREDO

CBC Foreign Exchange Student
Christmas in Bolivia is celebrated Dec. 25 the same as here, but we never think of a white Christmas, because ours is in the summer.

Only stores decorate their windows, houses never do. We put the Xmas tree up the 24th, in the afternoon. That evening we start playing Indian Christmas songs and start the adoration to Baby Jesus.

Everybody goes to bed early and gets up about twelve or one in the morning to open the presents. The gift exchange is only among the parents and children of the family.

PEOPLE WHO live near a church go to midnight mass, which is long and beautiful.

Children over here believe that Santa Claus brings the presents. We believe that Baby Jesus brings them.

The mistletoe is unknown. I got a big surprise when I stood under one of them here. I think I'll take some back home.

The city has grown a big Xmas tree in the middle of town in the Principal Square. They put lights all over. On the 25th in the morning poor children go there and get some presents. They are put there by the government.

WE LEAVE the decorations until February the 6th when we celebrate the Three Kings, then we take all the decorations down. Some children get presents again on this day.

The first of January, at 12 o'clock, all the church bells start ringing. We usually stay up waiting for the new year. Christmas, New Year, and birthdays are the three important dates of the year in the lives of the Bolivian people.

This is my third Christmas in the U. S. I have so many of your customs. I almost forgot some of

Students To Visit Fisher

Lee Fisher, mathematics instructor, told The Collegiate that he has invited African exchange students from Oregon State University to spend Christmas with him and his family.

The students, Sam Mbele Mbang of The Gambia, and Azu Abstim of Nigeria will arrive on campus December 23.

Mbang is working on masters in meteorology. Abstim, a senior, is an electrical engineering major.

Mbele Mbang and Abstim will spend the day at the CBC campus. They will stay with Lee Fisher and his family until December 27, when they will travel to Bellingham, Washington, for New Years. The visiting students plan to return to Oregon State University January 3.

Mr. Fisher said, "It would be nice if an American family could have one or both of these men for a few days, so that they may celebrate New Years in the United States in an American home."

Interested persons may call Mr. Fisher at

Xmas In Iran:

Everybody Celebrates Except Tom Turkey

By Abbas Gheyssarieh
CBC Foreign Exchange Student

Christmas is celebrated by almost every country in the world. Each country has its own tradition to celebrate Christmas, and this tradition is almost the same in any part of the world.

In Iran, all Christians and even some people of other religions welcome the Christmas about a month before Christmas time. Shops and stores have special decorations for Christmas. You can see Christmas trees and Santas all over the place.

Most Christians celebrate Christmas in their homes under a Christmas tree; almost the same way people do here, with the exception of eating turkey. People of other religions either have their own parties, or go to the night clubs and dance. All night clubs have special programs for Christmas, and the owners of the night clubs have been waiting a long time for Christmas. That is the time they can make good money.

Those who cannot afford to go to the expensive night clubs may attend movies or watch television, because they are on all night during Christmas.

No matter where you go, you can always find something to do at Christmas time.

Students to Compete In Food Drive

The Christmas For the Needy Committee has asked students to donate food, clothing and toys for a family of nine. The drive will begin Monday. The gifts may be taken to the student lounge or to Mrs. Stapler's office.

The sophomore and freshman classes are competing on a point basis. Because the sophomore class is smaller it will receive more points for each item.
